To Our Shareholders

FY 2025 Shareholder Newsletter

— From April 1, 2025 to March 31, 2026 —

On February 27, 2026, our market listing was reclassified from the Standard Market to the Prime Market of the Tokyo Stock Exchange. We sincerely appreciate your continued support.

To Our Shareholders

We would like to express our sincere gratitude to our shareholders for your continued and exceptional support. We hereby report on the business overview of our Group for FY 2025 (April 1, 2025 to March 31, 2026).

Business Environment for the Fiscal Year under Review

During the consolidated fiscal year under review, the global economy remained solid overall; however, future uncertainty increased due to US protectionist trade policies, the prolonged situation in Ukraine, rising resource and raw material prices amidst heightened geopolitical risks in the Middle East, and destabilized supply chains. In this environment, our Group's orders for industrial robots increased as automation and production facility investments advanced, primarily in the electronic components and semiconductor-related fields. Orders for semiconductor manufacturing equipment also rose, driven by expanding capital investment demand in the advanced semiconductor sector for generative AI applications since the beginning of the year. Furthermore, securing orders tied to our customers' mass production of AI robots – a market expected to expand – also contributed, bringing consolidated orders to 61,613 million yen, a 16.2% year-on-year increase. Regarding net sales, sales for industrial robot applications grew overall, as an increase in domestic sales more than offset a decline in sales for China. Additionally, sales of semiconductor manufacturing equipment – which had remained in an adjustment phase until the previous fiscal year – increased during the fiscal year under review due to growing demand for data center and generative AI applications. Conversely, sales for automotive applications decreased, impacted by our customers' production adjustments. As a result, consolidated net sales reached 59,557 million yen, a 7.0% increase year on year.

New Medium-Term Management Plan (FY 2026 to FY 2030)

Currently, amid global labor shortages, the drive toward automation and labor savings is accelerating – primarily at production sites – and expectations are rising for AI robots as a new growth area. While the AI robot market is expected to grow over the medium to long term, progress toward real-world adoption is taking time, and because it remains in a formative stage, a divergence has emerged from the preconditions assumed when formulating the previous Medium-Term Management Plan (FY 2024 to FY 2026) announced on May 13, 2024. In light of this environment, our Group has constructively reviewed the current plan and formulated a new Medium-Term Management Plan starting from FY 2026 to build a highly effective and flexible growth strategy. Under this new plan, we position “AI robots,” “Aviation, Space, and Defense,” and “e-mobility” as focus growth areas, and we will boldly pursue growth opportunities in each field. To confidently secure these future growth opportunities, we will strengthen our marketing functions and further refine our capabilities in new product development and manufacturing.

Concurrently, to steadily advance our growth strategy, we will work as a united Group to fortify our management foundation and contribute to the realization of a sustainable society. We sincerely hope that our shareholders will continue to extend their generous support to the HDS Group.

June 2026
Akira Maruyama
President and Representative Director
